Teaching our Children to be Kind

All parents want their children to be kind and caring. We want our kids to stand up for what's right and show compassion for others. But not every child knows how to be kind to one another or even values kindness. It's important that we teach children the importance of being kind. As parents, we are our children's most powerful role model. The best thing we can do for children when teaching kindness is to model it each day. Here are Thirteen ways to raise a caring and compassionate child that parents can use to model kindness.

Feeling Safe at School

All children deserve a safe environment in which to learn and grow. At school, children need a secure, positive, and comfortable environment to help them learn. Overall, schools are one of the safest places children can be. However, some schools have problems, such as bullying and theft. These problems make students and educators feel less safe, and it makes it harder for students to learn and for teachers to do their jobs. But there are ways parents can make going to school a safer and a more valuable learning experience for their children. Check out What Parents Can Do To Keep Kids Safe At School for some great ideas. Go to #SafeAllies for more resources on bullying prevention.

Helping Your Child Manage Their Frustration
